

Call for expression of interest for inclusion in the national database to provide the following services to the public health sector:

- (a) Mental Health Services
- (b) Forensic Mental Health Services

The National Department of Health is developing a database of private health professionals who are prepared to provide mental health and forensic mental health services to the public health sector.

The aim of this initiative is to:

- a. Enhance treatment of mental illness in primary health care facilities in the prioritised districts;
- b. Reduce the backlog of forensic psychiatric evaluations referred by the Courts; and
- c. Initiate or review treatment of State psychiatric patients waiting for hospital admission in Correctional centres.
